Note: If you miss deadlines in the current semester, your degree conferral will be postponed to the next semester. But if you defend before the end of the current semester, you don't have to register for additional credit; just apply again to graduate in the next semester. (Example: If you defend on November 21, 2022, apply to graduate in Spring 2023 but don't register for Spring 2023.)

Reminders to all candidates:

- Follow the Format Requirements for Theses & Dissertations carefully.
- Download all forms directly from Graduate School Resources to ensure you have the most current version.
- Your program administrator should review all forms before you (or they) submit to the Graduate School.
- You must prepare and get your Thesis Approval form signed. This is separate from the Exam Report, which you will not handle. Both forms require similar signatures and are often confused (usually to the exclusion of the Thesis Approval).

Reminders to Master's candidates:

- Refer to your unofficial transcript as you type your Application for Candidacy. The number of credits indicated on the first page should be the minimum required for your program of study. Do not include failed classes or classes that were not necessary for your degree. Courses listed on the Application for Candidacy cannot be counted toward a future master's degree.
- All transfer credits must be posted before you submit your Application for Candidacy.
